

PotteryWorks Highlights

2015-2016

- Last November, PotteryWorks participated in the Eastside Culture Crawl in Vancouver. A busy and successful 4 days for us
- In June of this year, we had a month long show of landscape paintings called "The View From Here", at Lookout Gallery at UBC. It was our biggest and most successful show yet.
- One of our artists, Rob Bell, had a one man show at Eclips Hair Salon and Café in New Westminister. His Abstract Pastels were well received there.
- Sheri Lynn Seitz had a show of her photographs at Joe's Table in Burnaby, last July. A smaller version of that show went up at the Seniors Services Society in New Westminister in October.
- September brought a two week show of paintings at Havana Gallery in Vancouver. Our second show at that Gallery.
- In October we participated in the Inclusion Art Show in Vancouver. It was our 12th year at the show and as usual it was a fun and profitable two days
- The most momentous event of this last year, was certainly our move to a new studio location at 612 Victoria St. in New Westminister. We all love our new studio location and we have made a retail area there that is open to the public.
