

ARTS COUNCIL
of NEW WESTMINSTER

STRIVE. DRIVE. THRIVE.
Strategic Plan 2021-2024

At the Arts Council of New Westminster, we live and work on the unceded, traditional territories of the Coast Salish peoples of the QayQayt (qiqéyt) Nation as well as all Coast Salish Nations.

02 Executive Summary

The Arts Council of New Westminster (ACNW) is an active and engaged charitable arts organization that supports and nurtures artists and arts audiences in New Westminster. We remain focused on bringing community together through the arts. Through partnerships across various sectors, including health, social, tourism, and economic development, we infuse the arts into the cultural tapestry of our community. Our work provides opportunities for community to experience and enjoy arts and cultural activities within the visual, literary, and performing arts in New Westminster.

Before March 2020, the ACNW regularly delivered eight unique programs and over a dozen community arts projects throughout the year. The COVID-19 pandemic significantly impacted how we operate and serve our community. Over the last 18 months, we have had to reduce programming and human resources, shift to online program and service delivery, and close The Gallery at Queen's Park for seven months. Amid this uncertainty, Board and Staff undertook a re-prioritization of the use of our three main resources: our voice, our platform, and our resources. We mobilized to support artists, arts-based businesses, and arts organizations through information and resource sharing throughout the pandemic. The Gallery has since reopened, and our programs are making a gradual return.

Looking to our future, the development of this strategic plan has allowed us to reconfirm our commitment to the growth and development of arts and culture in New Westminster. This plan will reorganize the ACNW's programming approach and focus on three main priorities: arts education, arts outreach, and arts enhancement. We will continue to be an information and resource centre, facilitate arts and cultural events, and provide advocacy and representation of the arts. With a renewed lens on equity, diversity, and inclusion, our organization will unpack our history and reapproach our practices to serve a broader range of stakeholders in New Westminster. We will reach participants at all socio-economic levels. We continue with low-barrier art programs that are open to all community members. Through Strive, Drive, and Thrive, the ACNW will continue our 54-year history of being responsive to the needs of artists and arts audiences and celebrate the immense richness of the arts in New Westminster.

Who We Are

Vision

An active and engaged
Arts Council in a creative, diverse city

Mission

Bringing Community
Together Through the Arts

The Arts Council meets our mission by fostering, supporting, and promoting arts for all age groups, cultures and Indigenous community members.

We do this by:

- Acting as an information and resource centre for artistic and cultural projects
- Advocating for and supporting the arts and artists in our city
- Facilitating arts and cultural events in New Westminster
- Providing advocacy for and representation of the arts at all governmental levels
- Providing opportunities for the community to come together through the enjoyment and experience of the arts and arts events
- Being an arts and culture community partner across a variety of sectors in New Westminster

04 Core Values

Inspiration and Artistic Excellence:

Providing meaningful experiences in a welcoming environment for visitors, participants and volunteers by offering a variety of high-quality artistic experiences for all ages; and creating opportunities to nurture and support our artists, so they may continue to grow and strive for artistic excellence.

Diversity and Recognition:

Creating a broad range of programs and gallery exhibitions to reflect the diversity of our community; and being inclusive and respectful of all cultures which have influenced both the history of and present-day New Westminster.

Partnerships:

Involving and reaching out to others in formal, informal, new and established projects and working with the City and other like-minded community groups to ensure an arts presence in all celebrations and events.

Partnering with the Indigenous Communities:

Holding and creating space for Indigenous communities so as to provide opportunities to engage in artistic experiences and performances; and creating an awareness and appreciation of Indigenous cultures within the larger community of New Westminster.

Governance:

Ensuring the use of fair and transparent processes that adhere to principles of accountability, independence, merit, and equity.

Communications and Engagement:

Ensuring active communication and community engagement through our approach to planning, strategic directions and goals and program development, so as to serve and maintain relevancy to members and to the community.
